OMEGATREK IN-B INTEGRATE MOBILITY INTO

Would your productivity increase if the business telephone on your desk was with you at all times? Would your customers' level of satisfaction with your company increase if the key people in your organization were more accessible to them? Do you or your employees spend more time away from your desk than at your desk? If the answer to one or more of these questions is yes Iwatsu's Omegatrek can dramatically improve your business.

Add a New Component to Your Communications

The Omegatrek wireless communications system was designed to work with either your Iwatsu ADIX telephone system or your current telephone system. It allows you to make and answer calls and access communications features from anywhere in an office building or campus using a lightweight portable station. As you move about your office, your conversation is picked up by Omegatrek base stations located throughout the facility. In addition, when you make or receive a call from anywhere within the service area covered by the Omegatrek wireless system, you have instant access to your customers. The accessibility that Omegatrek offers reduces the number of voice mails and missed calls and increases the number of happy customers and business opportunities.

Increase Accessibility and Productivity

The Omegatrek Portable Station was designed to operate just like your desktop telephone with one major improvement: You can take it with you. Many of the most useful features including forwarding, message waiting indication, conferencing and voice mail are completely accessible from anywhere in your building. Relying on the Omegatrek Portable Station instead of a desktop telephone allows you to respond faster to customers, reduce long distance charges by eliminating return calls, and decrease the amount of time you are unavailable to take calls because you are not at your desk.

Application is the Key

Omegatrek delivers measurable benefits to a wide range of industries by allowing businesses and individuals to stay in close contact with customers and associates. The many Omegatrek features can be customized to meet the demands of a business. The result is measurable gains in productivity by improving response times, cutting down on wasted time spent trying to locate people and missing fewer calls. Below are examples of how individuals in different industries benefit from Omegatrek.

HEALTHCARE

Hospital staff can respond to patients needs and be more aware of emergency situations if they are instantly accessible. In a medical environment, Omegatrek will save time when time is critical to saving lives.

MANUFACTURING AND WAREHOUSING

Management staff in large buildings such as manufacturing plants and warehouses are always in close contact with customer service and floor staff with Omegatrek. This results in quicker response to problems and customer demands.

OFFICES

For many people, a large portion of their day is spent away from their phone. Omegatrek ensures that they can always make or receive an important call from anywhere in the office.

RETAIL STORES

Retail store staff can easily communicate with customers and colleagues. For example, cashiers can easily reach personnel on the retail floor to check the price of an item. Customer hold times are also reduced by eliminating time consuming pages to locate personnel.

Any Telephone System Benefits from Omegatrek

Omegatrek was designed to work with Iwatsu's ADIX APS telephone system or with your current telephone system. With the Iwatsu ADIX APS telephone system, the Omegatrek application is fully integrated with the telephone system. With other manufacturer's telephone systems, Omegatrek may be integrated via E&M tie lines, analog lines, or a T1 circuit. In either configuration, you and your employees will benefit from increased productivity, greater mobility, and advanced wireless features.

Communications Solutions You Can Depend On
